

Unchained Labs bulks up the Board, adds Max Carnecchia

October 24, 2017 – Pleasanton, CA – Unchained Labs, the life sciences company that’s all about getting biologics researchers the right tool for the job, announced the appointment of Max Carnecchia to its Board today.

Max is currently the Chief Executive Officer of Illuminate Education, which creates cloud delivered tools for educators that promote student success. Over 7 million K-12 students benefit from the Illuminate Education solutions.

Prior to Illuminate Education, Max was the Chief Executive Officer of BIOVIA-Dassault Systèmes and before that the President and CEO of Accelrys, which Dassault Systèmes acquired in 2014. Max led Accelrys through significant growth and transformation, successfully transitioning the company into the leading global provider of scientific product lifecycle management software and services.

“I am absolutely thrilled to have Max join our Board,” said Tim Harkness, Founder and CEO of Unchained Labs. “Max’s experience running the world’s largest life sciences software company brings a unique perspective to the table.”
